David rejoiced in God alone, he was raised by grace to an earthly throne But Christ the Son demands our praise, for His kingdom has no end of days

Lord, You rejoice in victory when another lost soul bows to its knee Rising tide of righteousness, with a shield of truth upon your breast

Honor and majesty divine, around His sacred temple shine Grace and might so long foretold, in crowns of glory not of gold Your hand shall find out every foe and as a fiery furnace glows With raging heat and living coals, they will feel Your wrath upon their souls
